Contacting Anonymous

We need to get more attention for Anonops up on DKos. I've tried contacting people at several places, including via pres@anonnews.org.

Any way I can help?

I did some work during OpEgypt back in January, but I haven't been able to get contacts back since then.

DK is kinda fried on Anonops - Brown overplayed his hand. I won't wade into that stuff, either, but if they send me really good stuff I will use it.

You not know how to contact them for further attention?

That's what I'm asking. How do we contact them?

I'm not a hacker, but I'm an excellent writer. I just need things to write about, and I'll toot anonymous' horn if they give me the sheet music.

I just need to find a way to contact people who actually do things. There are a number of threads I'm trying to bring together regarding chamberleaks and metal gear, for example.
